Yep, fine with the year-end filing. And once we cross 10% (assuming we were to get there) we would have 2 days to file.

Hi JB – Good vol, % and execution today.

As you can see we are likely to cross over the 5% soon. (Pls confirm that you are comfortable with a year-end filing of the 13D/G). Should we surpass 10%, we will deal with that at that time.

FYI the few involved have been brought behind a compliance wall, meaning they cannot discuss it, so this is on the qt-QT.

Subject: Update

JB – here is an update. We are running at 7% algo and also picking up more shares as we go – while not seeking to press the price up, to where we can get about 15% of the total vol (and up to but not above 20% so long as we are not pressing the price, though knowing we are helping to set the average when up to that level). The price is trading up for a bit now so the trader is working it slowly at the moment.
